So you're thinking about selling your home & buying a new one?

You're in the right place.

Hi, I'm Hannah Keown— a local real estate agent here in the Heart of Kentucky. This guide was made to help you feel clear, confident, and in control of buying and selling at the same time.

Whether you're planning to move in six months or just starting to think about the possibilities, this resource walks you through your options, tools to prepare, and ways an experienced agent (hi!) should support you along the way.

How I work with clients

I'm here to guide you through every step of the process — from calculating your net proceeds and connecting you with trusted lenders to advocating for your best interest during negotiations & coordinating timelines for a smooth move.

Meeting to understand your goals and timeline + personal introductions to trusted lenders.

Sales prep guidance including my preferred vendor list, professional photos & a modern marketing plan.

Ongoing support, calendar management & representation (no guessing or Googling required).

your FIRST STEPS

01. LETS MEET!

- Understand the value of your home.
- Calculate your sale proceeds. This will give you an estimated purchase price.
- Talk through market conditions. This will influence your strategy and timing.
- Discuss logistics like desired timeline, temporary housing & rent-backs.

02. MEET WITH A LENDER

- Review your numbers & understand your financing options.
- Determine your sales strategy – sell first then buy (less financial risk) or buy first then sell (smoother move, more control). See next page.

know YOUR OPTIONS

A trusted lender and an experienced real estate agent will help you choose a path that makes sense for your goals, timeline and the current real estate market.

A

SELL → RENT-BACK → BUY

- Sell your home first and stay in it up to 60 days with a rent-back, then buy your new home.
- Why it works: Sale proceeds are your down payment. Avoid two mortgages. You only move once.
- Best when: The demand for your home is strong; buyers are willing to offer a rent-back.

B

BUY → SELL (WITH FINANCING)

- Buy your new home using a temporary financing tool, then sell your current home and use the proceeds to pay off loan.
- Why it works: No gap in your housing, you move once.
- Best when: You qualify for carrying 2 mortgages, have strong equity, or need certainty on your next home.

C

BUY WITH A CONTINGENCY

- We write an offer that says your new home purchase is contingent on selling your current home.
- Best when: The new home isn't in a hyper-competitive market and the seller accepts sale contingencies.
- Why it works: Limits risk of double mortgage payments.

D

SAME-DAY CLOSINGS

- Sell your home in the morning → purchase the new one in the afternoon; funds from your sale roll into your new purchase.
- Best when: Both deals are lining up time-wise and the title company & lender are aligned.
- Why it works: No overlap, one move.

Exclusive Buyer Brokerage Agreement

Attached is the Exclusive Buyer Brokerage Agreement. As of August 17th, 2024, this document is required to be signed for a buyer's agent to show you homes and represent you in a real estate transaction. This agreement outlines our mutual responsibilities and ensures that you receive dedicated and professional service throughout your home-buying journey. Please review the document, and let me know if you have any questions or if you're ready to proceed.

As your buyer's agent, I will...

...negotiate for you

I'll secure the best price and terms, saving you money and stress.

...guide you through the market

With deep knowledge of local trends, I'll identify the right opportunities and neighborhoods for you.

...scout off-market properties

I'll scout off-market properties, giving you a competitive edge in finding your dream home.

...make it a seamless process

I'll handle every detail, from scheduling to paperwork, ensuring a smooth, hassle-free experience.

the TIMELINE

PREP & PRE-APPROVE | WEEKS 1-3

- Define your budget with & without selling first (with a lender) and choose your buy/sell path (previous page)
- Prep your home: address repairs, declutter, listing photos

LIST & START TOURING | WEEKS 4-7

- Your home hits the market; showings begin
- In parallel, start touring new homes
- If using rent-back, we include it in your listing notes; if choosing buy-first, your lender finalizes your financing tool (usually a bridge loan or HELOC)

OFFERS & ACCEPTANCE | WEEK 8

- Review offers on your home
- Make offers on new properties
- We'll negotiate terms to meet our timeline (and include contingencies & rent-back language if needed)

DUE DILIGENCE & APPRAISAL | WEEK 9-11

- Inspections, appraisal(s), loan underwriting
- I'll manage the deadlines & buffers to protect your move date

PACK, CLOSE, MOVE | WEEK 12-14

- Final walkthrough, utilities scheduled to transfer, movers booked, funds wired
- Close per plan: rent-back window, back-to-back closings, or buy-then-sell

What your agent handles in the process

Strategy & timing: I'll recommend the right path based on your equity, timelines, and the micro-market for both homes.

Pricing, prep & marketing: Comparative market analysis, staging guidance, contractor referrals, photo/video & a listing launch plan.

Calendar control: Manage a master timeline for both transactions & keep all parties on it (buyers/sellers, title/lender).

Negotiations: From rent-back terms & sale-contingency language to flexible closing dates, consider it handled.

Paperwork & protections: Disclosures, occupancy agreements, contingency plans & ensuring you're not paying 2 mortgages unexpectedly!

you might be WONDERING...

01. WHAT IF I NEED MORE TIME TO MOVE?

We'll ask for a rent-back extension (if allowed) or a short lease at the new home prior to closing.

02. WHAT IF RATES CHANGE MID-PROCESS?

Discuss rate-lock options early with your lender.

03. CAN I MAKE A STRONG OFFER WITHOUT A SALE CONTINGENCY?

In a competitive market, using a bridge loan/HELOC will allow you to write a non-contingent offer that you will repay with your home sale proceeds.

04. HOW DO BRIDGE LOANS AND HELOCs DIFFER?

Bridge = short-term lump sum to span closings. HELOC = line of credit you draw as needed, often at lower rates.

05. WHAT IF MY BUYER DELAYS CLOSING?

We'll use contract language (extensions/penalties) and keep a backup plan (rent-back or short-term housing) to protect your purchase timeline.

06. WHAT IF MY BUYER FALLS THROUGH?

We'll do our best to keep a backup offer. If your new home purchase is contingent on the sale of your old home, you can cancel and keep your earnest money deposit within the contingency period.

07. WHAT IF MY CURRENT HOME DOESN'T SELL QUICKLY?

We'll adjust price/marketing, offer buyer incentives, and re-evaluate the timeline. As a last resort, we can discuss renting with lender.

08. DO I NEED TEMPORARY HOUSING OR STORAGE?

Sometimes. A rent-back often removes the need; but if the timing is not lining up, plan short-term housing and a storage unit.

This isn't my first rodeo...

Buying and selling a home is a big deal – it's not something I take lightly!

I've helped over 150+ clients make their move in Grayson, Hardin, and surrounding areas, and I'm proud to say that most of my business comes from referrals and happy clients coming back for round two.

the Tale of Two Sales

HOW MY CLIENTS MADE THE MOVE WITH EASE

THE CHALLENGE

My clients were ready to move up to a larger home in Bardstown, but they had a big hurdle: they needed to sell their current home first. Like many people in this situation, they were worried about timing it all, where they would live in between & whether their home would sell fast enough.

THE STRATEGY

We walked through their options together with a lender and decided the best path was to do a bridge loan!

In practice that looked like:

- Prepping their home – deep cleaning, repairs, thoughtful updates, staging & photos
- Launching their listing.
- Coordinated timing so their financing lined up before they purchased their dream home.

THE OUTCOME

- Their home was listed during the holidays and Sold in 45 days for asking price.
- Secured their new home in Bardstown without paying two mortgages, having to move twice and without missing out on their top choice
- Moved on time that matched their work relocation timeline.

Next Steps

LET'S MAP OUT YOUR PATH

Whether you're ready to list your home and start touring others or you're just curious where to start, here's how we can work together:

1. Book a quick intro zoom or phone call to talk timing, goals, and next steps.
2. I'll connect you with a lender to determine your options
3. I'll send over prep tools and vendor contacts to get your home listing-ready
4. We'll go at your pace — whether that means moving now or prepping for later.
